WATTERSON'S TICKETS.

Running the Gauntlet of Democratic Presidential Possibilities.

Louisville, Ky., July 7.—In an article on presidential possibilities, Henry Watterson makes the following guesses and suggestions regarding the democratic ticket for next year:

The democratic party is not so poorly off for a presidential ticket next year as some people affect to think. An affirmative and irresistible issue in the reform of the revenue system, and the reduction of the war tariff to a peace footing, we have to stand on, and, likewise, a negative but equally irresistible issue in the excess of the late republican congress and in the ulterior plans and purposes of republican party. And here is a good fat ticket, round and rosy, like a little buttercup, and safe at both ends.

For President, Grover Cleveland, of New York; for Vice-President, Horace Boies of Iowa.

Or this one:

For President, Grover Cleveland of New York; for Vice-President, Isaac P. Gray of Indiana.

Or this one:

For President, Grover Cleveland of New York; for Vice-President, Wm. R. Morrison of Illinois.

Or how would this do?

For President, John G. Carlisle of Kentucky; for Vice-President, Russell P. Flower of New York.

Or this:

For President John G. Carlisle of Kentucky; for Vice-President, Leon Abbott of New Jersey.

Mr. Watterson then goes over the entire list of present possibilities, and says if none of them answer they can be separated and any one of the vice-presidential candidates can be advanced to first place. Governor Hill, in the opinion of the Star Eyed Goddess, is "not in it."

A Wonder Worker.

Mr. Frank Hoffman, a young man of Burlington, Ohio, states that he had been under the care of prominent physicians, and used their treatment until he was not able to get around. They pronounced his case to be consumption and incurable. He was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Colds and Coughs and at that time was not able to walk across the street without resting. He found, before he had used half of a dollar bottle, that he was much better; he continued to use it and to-day is enjoying good health. If you have any throat, lung or chest trouble try it. We guarantee satisfaction. Trial bottle free at H. L. Tucker's drug store.

DONNELLY CAN'T RUN THINGS.

The Minnesota Sage: Rebuffed by the Minnesota Alliance.

St. Paul, Minn., July 8.—The state executive committee of the Farmers' alliance met yesterday in this city, and later a conference for the purpose of organizing the new people's party in Minnesota was held. Mr. Donnelly, who had been appointed chairman of the Minnesota state committee by the Cincinnati conference, presented the names of a full state committee. Senator Hompe, leader of the anti-Donnelly alliance faction, objected to the new committee because it ignored the existing alliance campaign committee. He held that the Cincinnati convention proposed new committees only in unorganized states, while Minnesota was already organized. A motion was made for a committee of five to report a compromise, three of said committee to be the three appointed at Cincinnati. Donnelly objected strenuously, but the motion carried. This committee of five announced a new committee late in the afternoon divided between the two factions. Another fight then arose on some members of committee, in the course of which ex-President R. J. Hall denounced Editor Fish of the Great West as a traitor and called him a liar, when the latter tried to defend himself. The report was adopted, and the new state committee met last night.

Drunk-mess—Liquor Habit—In all the World there is but one cure. Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it, effecting a speedy and permanent cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been cured who have taken the Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge, and to-day believe they quit drinking of their own free will. No harmful effects result from its administration. Cures guaranteed. Send for circular and full particulars. Address in confidence, Golden Specific Co., 184 Race Street, Cincinnati, O. 45-1V.

The Vanished Surplus.

Uncle Sam, who smiled at $100,000,000 in the treasury three years ago, is abut as disgusted an individual as can be found in these parts. He hasn't much to be proud of, it must be admitted. However, the republicans have been faithful to their pledges in this matter. Mr. Frye, of Maine, speaking in their name, promised if the party should get another whack at the presidency they would make the treasury as empty as a country man on his first sea voyage. They have kept their word religiously.—New York Herald.

The men who go to places of power under British dominion usually have plenty of money and property. Mr. Abbott, the new premier of Canada, owns a beautiful estate at St. Anne's, about an hour's ride of Montreal, which is stocked with Guernsey cattle and Shropshire sheep.

TO SWINDLE EASTERNERS.

Thought They Had 'Em Sure.

A young man and his best girl were walking down Broadway about 9 o'clock last night. They were absorbed in the blissfulness of their own companionship and would not have attracted more than passing notice had it not been for the strange antics of a middle aged, well dressed man who walked a short distance behind them. Something on the sidewalk attracted his attention and caused him to make peculiar actions. He would stop, rivet his eyes on the sidewalk, then walk on a few steps and stop again. Once he put out his cane as if to touch some moving object, but it apparently escaped him and he walked on again. "See here, young man," he called to a passerby who had noticed his antics. "By gum, but this is the strangest thing I ever saw. Do you see it?"

The man accosted looked in the direction pointed out and sure enough did see "it." About two feet away his eyes beheld a small wriggling object about 6 inches in length that appeared in the semi-darkness to be a snake quietly moving along, always keeping the same distance behind the young man and his girl.

"What is it?" anxiously asked the middle aged man.

The person to whom the inquiry was addressed shook his head dubiously as he and his companion followed the strange little object's movements the full length of the block. It would jump about two feet, hesitate a second, and jump exactly the same distance again. Each time it struck the sidewalk it assumed a new shape. Finally, the man who had been called by the first took courage to step on the "snake." He raised his foot imagining a queer feeling in it. The "snake" was only a frayed bit of the young lady's dress that had trailed from the bottom by a thread.

Man No. 2 looked in stone at the middle aged man.

"Well, young man," said the latter, "I thought it was strange for a snake to be crawling along Broadway. But" (with a sigh of relief) "I thought for a minute I had 'em sure and I'm much obliged to you."

Man No. 2 said: "Well, I felt the same way."

With a favorable season it is estimated that the sugar crop of Louisiana this year will fall but little short of 430,000 hogheads, which was a large yield in antebellum and slavery times. The bounty on the Louisiana crop and that which will be claimed by other sugar producing states has been estimated at about 13 1/2 million dollars. The annual tax on sugar imported into the United States before the duty was abolished was about 50 million dollars, showing a saving by the adoption of the bounty plan of 36 1/2 million dollars. The whole subsidy system is wrong and vicious, but of all forms of public robbery the tariff is the most infernal. It would be money in the pockets of the people to subsidize every infant industry in the country by way of a stipulated bounty rather than pay the enormous tribute which protection extorts from the consumers of the nation.—K. C. Star.

Shakespeare's copy seems to have been fairly well understood by the printers, notwithstanding the fact that Ignatius Donnelly regards the poet as a blockhead and a money grubber.

By Horace Furness, the Shakespearean scholar, has counted the lines in Shakespeare's comedies and found a total of 32,400, and in all that number finds only nineteen lines that are hopelessly obscure. Some of these he believes should be charged to the errors of the printers.

I have been a great sufferer from dry catarrh for many years, and I tried many remedies, but none did me a much benefit as Ely's Cream Balm. It completely cured me.—M. J. Lally, 10 Woodward Ave., Boston Highlands, Mass.

I think Ely's Cream Balm is the best remedy for catarrh I ever saw. I never took anything that relieved me so quickly, and I have not felt so well for along time. I used to be troubled with severe headaches two or three times a week.—J. A. Alcorn, Act U. P. Ry. Co., Eaton, Col. 33
